The dual designation of BSc/MEng stems from the original BSC course. It was titled BSc/BEng between 1983 and 1985 before becoming BSc/MEng. The school operated a policy of awarding a classified BSc, while those students who performed to a high level were awarded an unclassified MEng. Between 1997 and 1999 the course split into separate BSc and MEng programmes.	Institution of Electrical Engineers
(Industrially linked) phased out	Engineering Council
